The Great Pyramid of Giza

Example

There are over a hundred pyramids in Egypt. The most famous is the Great Pyramid of Giza. This pyramid is over 4,500 years old. Until the early 19th century it was actually the taller building on Earth! It stands next to the River Nile near the city of Cairo in Egypt. It is over 140 metres high and it take the Egyptian people twenty years to build. There are many than two million pieces of stone in the pyramid. You can still see a large and unusual kind of animal into this pyramid. It is called 'The Sphinx' and it have the body of a lion and the head of an Egyptian king.

7 You can learn a lot about Egyptian history if you look at the walls of the pyramid. On these walls are paintings of people and animals. The paintings show when people lived in Egypt at that time.

You can go inside the pyramid but you have to buy a ticket. They sell 300 tickets each day, 150 in the morning at 8 a.m. and 150 in the afternoon at 1 p.m. You can't take photographs inside the pyramid.

10 If you Are in Egypt you really must go and see the Great Pyramid of Giza!

Dear Andy,

It's great there. The weather is brilliant and there are things to do every day. The hotel is fantastic. It has got a swimming pool and four tennis courts. It's got a great beach - I'm sitting there now. My dad and I go diving and windsurfing in the morning. Sometimes we go sailing, too. There are also a lot of fantastic plants and tropical birds there. Well, it's getting very hot here - time for a swim! See you soon!

Andy Simpson,

Part 2

Reading Time: 20 minutes (12 points)

Task 1

Read the texts (A–G) and match them with the titles (1–8). There is one extra title. Fill in your answers in the table below. (7 points max.)

- 1. Good for everyone
- 2. Easy to care for
- 3. Part of culture
- 4. Screen fashion
- 5. An innovative idea
- 6. Working clothes
- 7. Jeans' labels
- 8. Clothes to protest

8 ~~4~~ A. Jeans are one of fashion's most long enduring trends. Cowboys wear them but so do supermodels, farmers, presidents and housewives. Ask any group of people why they wear jeans and you will get a range of answers. For some they're comfortable and easy — for others they're trendy and cool. Jeans mean different things to different people but they are popular everywhere.

~~4~~ B. Americans do not have a national folk dress with a long tradition. Blue jeans are probably the most recognisable article of American clothing. They have been part of American life for over 125 years. Blue denim jeans became not only an expression of American fashion but also an element of American identity known around the world.

6 C. Jeans were first designed as trousers for farmers and miners in the states of the American West. They quickly grew popular with common people, including cowboys, factory employees and railroad builders. The new trousers were made from a very strong material which did not wear out easily. However, at the same time jeans were very practical and comfortable to wear.

5 D. Pockets were the weak point of the miners' clothes — they easily tore away from the jeans. A man called Jacob Davis had the idea of using metal rivets (fasteners) to hold the pockets and the jeans together so that they wouldn't tear. Davis wanted to patent his idea, but he didn't have enough money, so he offered Levi Strauss a deal if Strauss paid for the patent. Strauss accepted and started making jeans.

7 E. By the middle of the twentieth century, these heavy cotton trousers were a symbol of opposition for young artists and writers. College students started to wear them to show they were against the Vietnam War. The new trousers were banned in American schools from coast to coast and sometimes in theatres and cinemas.

1 F. Jeans are good because they don't show the dirt. You can easily go a month without washing them and they don't look shocking. They don't need to be washed as often as other trousers and you don't need to iron them. What's more, because of the strong material you can wear your favorite jeans for years. Even the occasional hole or spot doesn't spoil them at all.

8 G. In the 30s and 40s many people began to spend their spare time watching movies where adventurous cowboys rode horses, fought bad guys and wore blue jeans. The actors made

Jeans popular in movies and everyone wanted to wear them. Young people wished to imitate the casual "cowboyish" look they saw in films, and they began to wear jeans as casual wear.

Part 2

Reading Time: 20 minutes (12 points)

Task 1

Read the texts (A–G) and match them with the titles (1–8). There is one extra title. Fill in your answers in the table below. (7 points max.)

1. Good for everyone ^A
2. Easy to care for ^F
3. Part of culture ^B
4. Screen fashion ^G
5. An innovative idea ^D
6. Working clothes ^C
7. Jeans' labels
8. Clothes to protest ^E

A. Jeans are one of fashion's most long enduring trends. Cowboys wear them but so do supermodels, farmers, presidents and housewives. Ask any group of people why they wear jeans and you will get a range of answers. For some they're comfortable and easy — for others they're trendy and cool. Jeans mean different things to different people but they are popular everywhere.

B. Americans do not have a national folk dress with a long tradition. Blue jeans are probably the most recognisable article of American clothing. They have been part of American life for over 125 years. Blue denim jeans became not only an expression of American fashion but also an element of American identity known around the world.

C. Jeans were first designed as trousers for farmers and miners in the states of the American West. They quickly grew popular with common people, including cowboys, factory employees and railroad builders. The new trousers were made from a very strong material which did not wear out easily. However, at the same time jeans were very practical and comfortable to wear.

D. Pockets were the weak point of the miners' clothes — they easily tore away from the jeans. A man called Jacob Davis had the idea of using metal rivets (fasteners) to hold the pockets and the jeans together so that they wouldn't tear. Davis wanted to patent his idea, but he didn't have enough money, so he offered Levi Strauss a deal if Strauss paid for the patent. Strauss accepted and started making jeans.

E. By the middle of the twentieth century, these heavy cotton trousers were a symbol of opposition for young artists and writers. College students started to wear them to show they were against the Vietnam War. The new trousers were banned in American schools from coast to coast and sometimes in theatres and cinemas.

F. Jeans are good because they don't show the dirt. You can easily go a month without washing them and they don't look shocking. They don't need to be washed as often as other trousers and you don't need to iron them. What's more, because of the strong material you can wear your favorite jeans for years. Even the occasional hole or spot doesn't spoil them at all.

G. In the 30s and 40s many people began to spend their spare time watching movies where adventurous cowboys rode horses, fought bad guys and wore blue jeans. The actors made jeans popular in movies and everyone wanted to wear them. Young people wished to imitate the casual "cowboyish" look they saw in films, and they began to wear jeans as casual wear.

Ask any group of people why they wear jeans and you will get a range of answers. For some they're comfortable and easy — for others they're trendy and cool. Jeans mean different things to different people but they are popular everywhere.
- 3 B. Americans do not have a national folk dress with a long tradition. Blue jeans are probably the most recognisable article of American clothing. They have been part of American life for over 125 years. Blue denim jeans became not only an expression of American fashion but also an element of American identity known around the world.
- 6 C. Jeans were first designed as trousers for farmers and miners in the states of the American West. They quickly grew popular with common people, including cowboys, factory employees and railroad builders. The new trousers were made from a very strong material which did not wear out easily. However, at the same time jeans were very practical and comfortable to wear.
- 5 D. Pockets were the weak point of the miners' clothes — they easily tore away from the jeans. A man called Jacob Davis had the idea of using metal rivets (fasteners) to hold the pockets and the jeans together so that they wouldn't tear. Davis wanted to patent his idea, but he didn't have enough money, so he offered Levi Strauss a deal if Strauss paid for the patent. Strauss accepted and started making jeans.
- 8 E. By the middle of the twentieth century, these heavy cotton trousers were a symbol of opposition for young artists and writers. College students started to wear them to show they were against the Vietnam War. The new trousers were banned in American schools from coast to coast and sometimes in theatres and cinemas.
- 2 F. Jeans are good because they don't show the dirt. You can easily go a month without washing them and they don't look shocking. They don't need to be washed as often as other trousers and you don't need to iron them. What's more, because of the strong material you can wear your favorite jeans for years. Even the occasional hole or spot doesn't spoil them at all.
- 4 G. In the 30s and 40s many people began to spend their spare time watching movies where adventurous cowboys rode horses, fought bad guys and wore blue jeans. The actors made

Jeans popular in movies and everyone wanted to wear them. Young people wished to imitate the casual "cowboyish" look they saw in films, and they began to wear jeans as casual wear.

Writing

Time: 20 minutes (10 points)

You are on holiday. You've got a postcard from your friend and are going to write your holiday postcard to him. Write about:

- where you're spending your holiday,
- where you're staying and what you're doing,
- who you are with on holiday.

Trinidad 5 August Dear Andy, It's great there. The weather is brilliant and there are things to	Andy Simpson, do every day. The hotel is fantastic. It has got a swimming pool and four tennis courts. It's got a great beach - I'm sitting there now. My dad and I go diving and windsurfing in the morning. Sometimes we go sailing, too. There are also a lot of fantastic plants and tropical birds there. Well, it's getting very hot here - time for a swim! See you soon!
--	---------------

Chris

P.S. There's music and dancing every night on the beach!
